CANOVAS IS ASSASSINATED.

SPANISH PREMIER MEETS DEATH BY AN ANARCHIST.

Great Consternation in Madrid and Throughout All Spain--His Successor.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

MADRID, Aug. 9.—Senor Canovas Del Castillo, Prime Minister of Spain, was assassinated at Santa Aqueda yesterday. His slayer is the anarchist Gallie.

The death of Canovas has thrown Madrid and the whole of Spain into the most profound gloom. The body of the distinguished statesman was brought here on a special train today and now lies in state.

It is reported that the assassin has escaped from Spain and is now in Naples. Senor Segasta, who preceded Canovas as Premier, has tendered his services to the Queen as successor. The opinion prevails that the Queen will most probably appoint him.

The death of Canovas is likely to have an important bearing on the relations existing between Spain and the United States. It has been largely due to the deliberate and conservative policy of the dead Premier that war between the two countries has been avoided. Canovas showed great liberality and friendliness for the American government in the trying and delicate circumstances that have constantly arisen since the war in Cuba began.

General Azzarriga Made Premier.

A later dispatch from Madrid says that General Azzarriga, minister of war, has been designated by the Queen as Provisional Premier, pending definite appointment.

Marshal Martinez Campos has been summoned to Madrid and will arrive tomorrow. It is generally believed that a liberal cabinet will take charge of affairs.

Official Report of the Crime.

The official report of the assassination of Canovas, just issued, says that the murderer fired at the distance of a yard; the bullet struck Canovas in the head and traversed it from right to left temple. Canovas arose but immediately fell; he again tried to regain his feet and while he was making this second attempt, the assassin fired another shot which perforated his chest, passing out near his spine. He fell back unconscious after the second shot struck him. While in that state the assassin fired a third shot into his body.

"Avenged My Brothers."

His wife was the first to reach his side; to the assassin she cried out: "Murderer," whereupon he answered coolly: "I respect you, Madam, because you are an honest lady. I have fulfilled my duty and am satisfied with having avenged my brothers of the Mont Juliet." Canovas never regained consciousness.

The Assassin

was registered at the hotel as a correspondent of the Italian newspaper Poplo. He had been in prison at Vezera, where he had been formerly employed as a typesetter.

The Body

of Canovas will lie in state in Madrid and the public will be admitted to view it. Afterward funeral ceremonies will be ordered. by royal decree, in all the principal cities and towns of Spain at the same hour that the obsequies are being conducted at Madrid.

Minister Taylor

was the first of the foreign representatives to offer expressions of condolence.

Attempted the Usual Crime With the Usual Result.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

GLENNWOOD, Ga., Aug. 9.—Nathaniel Mason, a negro employed for some time at the residence of Dr. Charles A. Powell, of this place, entered the bed room of Mrs. Powell and attempted to assault her. He was captured by her husband after a fierce struggle. A posse of fifty neighbors took the negro away from Powell and carried him some distance down the road, where he was placed against a pile of rocks. At a signal from one of the leaders every trigger was pulled and a shower of lead lodged in his body. He was killed instantly.

Italian Killed by an Explosion.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., August 9.—An Italian about forty years old, name unknown, was killed here this morning by an explosion of fireworks at Sarvinrock. Georgia's Second Lynching.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

ALBANY, Ga., Aug. 9—News has just reached here of the lynching of Benjamin Mayfield, a negro who had hitherto borne a good reputation, at Edna, a small village twelve miles south of here.

He had committed an assault upon the wife of a man named Donald James, a railroad conductor. Mayfield was caught a short distance from the scene of his crime. A mob disappeared with him in the woods and returned without him some five minutes later. There is no doubt about his being lynched, but the method employed is not known.

Tried to Kill Dugan.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

BARBOURSVILLE, KY., August 9.—An attempt was made here at midnight, by Joseph McKinley, to shoot Thos. Dugan. The latter is on trial for the murder of John C. Colson, a brother of Congressman Colson. McKinley was aided by the little son of the murdered man. His purpose was frustrated by a Deputy Sheriff barely in time to prevent its execution.

Effect of Assassination in Paris.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

PARIS, Aug. 9.—Figaro says the Paris police are keeping a close watch on all French and foreign anarchists in the city. Three foreign anarchists were arrested in the city last night and it is reported that others will be taken into custody today.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 9.—All of the miners in the New York and Cleveland Gas Company who are still working were paid up today. Those who struck received no money, the operators insisting on the terms of the contract.

The Effect on London.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

Resignation Accepted.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—President Young, of the National Baseball League, who has been employed in the treasury department for thirty-one years, has tendered his resignation, and at his personal request was accepted at once.

A CHANGE FOR THE WORSE.

SITUATION IN ILLINOIS STRIKES GROWING CRITICAL.

Call for Troops Refused by Tanner—Riot and Bloodshed May be Precipitated.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

HILLSBORO, Ill., Aug. 9.—The situation at the Coffeen mines has changed for the worse. Strikers are arriving from different points; eight hundred are already there, and a thousand is expected before the day is over. A number of arrests of strikers have been made. The prtsoners were brought here for trial and one striker from Mount Olive was bound over to keep the peace. In default of bail he was sent to prison, and this tended to excite the strikers with the result that a number of small fights have occurred.

"General" Bradley is on the ground and says that every miner in the district has been ordered to Coffeen to prevent work. Sheriff Rande, in anticipation of trouble, sent for additional deputies, and nearly every man in Coffeen is on duty, with many from Hillsboro. Twenty-five armed deputies from Nokomis and fifty from Hillsboro have been ordered to proceed immediately to Coffeen.

The sheriff has an armed force of 200. Every striker is armed with a short stick, and those arrested also carried revolvers.

Two heavy freght trains loaded with coal were run out of Coffeen last night at a high rate of speed so that they could not be stopped.

Sheriff Rande's request for troops has been refused by Governor Tanner on the ground that he had not yet exhausted all his resources.

The general appearance here is that the Sheriff will be able to control the troops if he exercises good judgment and coolness in avoiding trouble but any aggressive acts on the part of the deputies, in the excited condition of affairs may precipitate riot and bloodshed.

THEY CONFAB WITH M'KINLEY.

Foster, Alger and Hobart Call on President--Telegram of Condolence.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

HOTEL CHAMPLAIN, Aug. 9.—John W. Foster arrived here from Washington this morning and was ushered into the President's apartment, where he remained for nearly two hours. Vice President Hobart and Secretry Alger was also present at the conference.

Foster returned to Washington at noon.

President McKinley today telegraphed Secretary Sherman to send a cablegram of condelence to the Spanish government on the death of Premier Canovas.

A MEADOW ROW.

One Negro Hits Another With a Rock and Then Skips.

The meadow still manages to furnish her full quota of the rows that disturb the peace and quiet of the community. This morning John Causey, colored, became engaged in a fuss with a strange negro from Winston, whose name we did not learn. The war of words and his tirade of abuse not having the desired effect, John became persuaded that something more effectual was needed. Accordingly he seized a rock and hurled it at the Winston negro, hitting him on the head and inflicting a deep cut.

Policeman Pierce soon got wind of the affair and started out in search of Causey, but John had made good his escape. He will probably remain away for a few weeks, when he will return and be captured by our police force.

We learn that a gentlemen who recently died in Boston left the residue of a fortune, valued at about $7,000, to the Society of Friends in North Carolina. The matter came up before the yearly meeting at High Point Saturday, and it was decided to leave the disposition of the sum to a majority of the several quarterly meetings in the State.

It may be that Guilford Coliege will get the whole of this amount.

MT. AIRY DISTRICT CONFERENCE.

Saturday Was the Third and Last Day--An Interesting Session.

CULLER, N. C., Aug. 7.—(Special.)—Saturday, the third and last day of the conference was quite an interesting day to all who had the privilege of being present.

Reports were submitted from the pastors on the financial plans of the several charges and the number and condition of Epworth Leagues. Speeches by several members of the conference were made; but the most notable was by Rev. W. L. Dawson, of Wilkesboro, on the support of the ministry and the systematic plans for raising salaries. The preaching was done at 11 o'clock a. m., by Rev. A. G. Gantt and at night by Rev. W. L. Dawson, The delegates elected to the annual conference to be held in Asheville in November are J. B. Coughton, John E. Neal, E. O. Master and W. M. Cundiff,

A resolution strongly endorsing Dr. John C. Kilgo's stand on Christian education was heartily and unanimously passed.

The next session of the conference will be held in Boone, beyond the Ridge.

A gracious love feast was held at 9 o'clock Sunday morning, conducted by Rev. S. H. Helsabeck. Dr. W. R. Barnett preached at 11 a. m., Rev. W. L. Sherrill at 3:30 p. m., amd Rev. N. R. Richardson at night. The attentendance was large throughout the conference.

The good people of Pinnacle showed great hospitality and handsomely entertained the conference.

THE ASHEVILLE EXCURSION.

The Southern's Personally Conducted Excursion--Grand Trip.

The indications are the Southern's excursion to Asheville tomorrow will carry a large crowd. All arrangements have been made to accommodate as many as wish to go comfortably and in first-class style. The excursion will be under the personal supervision of Mr. R. L. Vernon, traveling passenger agent, whtch is an assurance that it will be run right.

Mrs. Edwards, of Raleigh, will be along to chaperone the crowd and to look especially after young ladies without escorts. Mrs. Edwards and Mr. Vernon will leave nothing undone that will add to the pleasure of those on board.

The train will leave Raleigh at 7 a. m., arriving here about 10:30.

The fare from Greensboro will be $3.50, which is a cheap rate. If you are contemplating a trip to Asheville during the summer this is an excellent opportunity.

MONDAY, AUGUST 9, 1897.

SENATOR HOAR, in a recent article, says that the reason that the average member of Congress is inferior to the average member of the English Parliament is that the term of office is too short in this country. Mr. Hoar is a man of brains and long experience in the public service, and there is probably a good deal in what he says. There is a yet more fundamental reason for this undeniable inferiority. While the future member of parliament is grounding himself in history and political economy at Oxford or Cambridge the future member of Congress is howling to a gathering of twenty "feller citerzens" at a cross-roads, about the ruin of the country. The one method produces a man of broad intelligence and some comprehension of the functions of government, while the other yields a voluble demagogue, neither knowing nor caring what the effects of a given piece of legislation will be, and bent only on piecing out his "too short" term of office. Experience in the halls of Congress is undoubtedly worth much to a man in increasing his efficiency as a legislator, but it is a dear school to send a man to, and only too often those sent have neither the brains nor the principle to make good representatives if given a life option on their offices. If any man doubts this let him keep tally of the fool bills offered at every session of Congress.

TESLA announces that he can, by his new telegraphy, "simultaneously transmit messages by means of the earth's electrical currents to as many points of the globe as may be desired." Mr. Tesla should be suppressed. Imagine all the women in Christendom asking Paris, at the same time, for the latest agony in spring bonnets. They won't leave the old earth enough energy to wobble around on its axis once a month. And then when you have skulked through a quarter of a mile of alleys to avoid a bore or a dun, and reach your den only to hear the little ticker saying, "Would it be convenient to pay, etc?" or, "Have you heard that story about, etc?" We don't mind folks looking at the seamy side of our craniums with the exray, but we draw the line, Mr. Tesla, at the universal simultaneous jabberer.

IT IS to be hoped that, whatever other counties may do, Guilford will have one township in the list of those who will, tomorrow, vote for better schools. In its facilities for higher education it stands well up, if not at the very head of the column, and if one township will but take advantage of the offer of the State, and that of the patriotic citizen of our city, the object lesson will be so convincing that the others will quckly follow. Too much cannot be said in praise of those who have worked so untiringly for this measure—nor too little in praise of those who, pretending to favor it, have injured it more by indifference than they could have done by open opposition.

IT cost $96,000 to ventilate the Senate chamber this year. Even then there was not nearly so much ventilation of that chamber as the American people desired. The lack of ventilation will probably cost them some hundreds of millions before they are through with it. It is a very dangerous thing to neglect the hygienic law of ventilation—even in the United States Senate.

THE pity of the business is, not that we are so illiteraet as a people, but that we appear to be utterly indifferent as to how long we remain so.

MR, MCKINLEY in his speech in Vermont the other day urged his hearers to "hold on to their Puritanic inheritance." Was not that not a rather unnecessary piece of insistence? It is a general impression that the average Puritan holds on to his inheritance and so much of other people's as he can lay hold of. It is the other fellow who needs to keep a weather eye on his inheritence.

THE furor that the expulsion of President Andrews from Brown University raised has shown that Mr. Rockefeiler et al. underestimated the independence of the American people. After all, there is some spirit and same love of fair play left among us. There are yet a goodly number of people who are disposed to resist the dominant ethics of kerosene.

YESTERDAY'S Wilmington Messenger was an unusually interesting issue, even for that excellent daily. One page was devoted to "Vance's Letter Book," a contribution of its Raileigh correspondent. North Carolina's illustrious men have two little honor in their own country, and every effort to increase it is commendable.

SENATOR PRITCHARD says the Republicans have never failed to carry out a pledge; Senator Butler says they failed in 1896. When the statements of our two noble exponents of senatorial dignity are so unharmonic, which one are we ordinary folks to believe anyway?

Honors For North Carolina Boys.

Frequent mention has been made of late in the public prints of deserved distinction attained by young North Carolinians at the various institutions of learning throughout the country—as well as those without as within the State—as in the case of Cadet William Peace who stands so high at West Point.

A marked instance of this gratifying prominence of our boys was shown at the commencement of the University of the South at Sewanee, Tenn., on the 5th instant. This college, of which your fellow townsman. Bishop Joseph B. Cheshire, is a trustee, has about two hundred undergraduates and its standard of scholarship is very high. At its commencement on the the 5th, according to the published programme, but three orations were delivered, of which two were assigned to North Carolinians, viz: the Latin salutatory to Phos. Pasteur Moe, of Carteret county, and the valedictory to Frederic Harriman Harding, of Beaufort of Lenoir county. These young men were both prepared for their collegiate course at Trinity school, Chocowinity, Beaufort county, Rev. N. Collin Hughes rector. May their future be as useful and prosperous as their past has been creditable. Graham Daves, in Sunday's News and Observer.

WHO WILL PAY

The Local School Tax in Morehead and Gilmer Townships?

Before voting on the question of local tax for schools on Tuesday, the citizens of Morehead and Gilmer townships, outside of Greensboro, should carefully consider the following facts:

In Gilmer township, the railroads will pay about $90 of the local school tax, if voted, and other corporations about $45.

In Morehead township, the railroads will pay about $100. Other corporations will pay about $60. These figures are below, rather than above, the true amounts.

Since the State will duplicate the amount raised by local taxes, Gilmer township will get $270, or more, from railroads and corporations, before touching the taxes paid by its citizens on their polls and on their real and personal property. Morehead township will get $320 or more.

Most of the stock of these corporations is owned by people living in the city of Greensboro or at a distance. For them this slight increase in taxes will be only a wise business investment. But the help to the schools of the townships will be great; the good to the children incalculable.

It is also true that much of the real estate of these two townships is owned by persons living in Greensboro and by land companies. The local tax will make them contribute to the support of the country schools, just as those persens living in the country and doing business in the city now help to snstain, at a much greater cost, the schools and all other public enterprises of the city. It is just and right that they should do this and few will object.

Let the voters of Gilmer and Morehead townships remember these facts at the polls on Tuesday, and cast their votes "FOR SCHOOLS."

A Justice Who Runs a "Justice" Court.

I see in No. 3 of your neat and very sprightly TELEGRAM, that my old friend John A. Pritchett, J. P., has been in office thirty years consecutively—dispensing even handed justice to all who sought it through him.

This notice reminds me of about the first court 'Squire Pritchett held, in his cabinet shop in the old Patriot office building, which stood where Houston Bros' grocery now stands.

It was a new thing in those days for a lawyer of any prominence to go before a J. P., but they did some times. It has been too long for me to give the case, but I do well remember, now, the able attorney, Mr. Levi M. Scott, argued for his client—citing similar cases from our own Supreme Court decisions and other well established rules laid down by able jurists. His citations were numerous and well selected from a pile of law books two feet high, and his argument full and forceful—as is always his style. I don't remember who was the other attorney.

Justice Pritchett looked puzzled and a little confused, but deliberated only a minute before he "handed down," as the lawyers say, his opinion—substantially as follows:

"Mr. Scott, your points are well taken and ably presented, and from what you have read, the law seems all on your side; but this is a justice's court, and I hold that if the law is as you say it is, it is not justice, and I hold against you."

Quite a smile was provoked by this decision of the justice, and much fun had, as was thought, at 'Squire Pritchett's expense; but "he laughs best who laughs last." Mr. Scott took an appeal to the Superior Court and 'Squire Pritchett was sustained. All of which goes to show that a stock of good hard sense in a fair-minded justice beats the law—as usually expounded—a long ways.

May 'Squire Pritchett live long to dispense justice—law or no law—is the wish of his old friend. A.

Better Than Blood Hounds.

Nicholson and Zeb Clegg have a pair of "yaller pups" that are going to make their mark as spotters, if nothing more.

Some nights ago the horses got out of the stable and they raised such a racket that the night watchman had to go to see about it.

Saturday night burglars were trying to bore through Oscar Pearce's back door, and though they were not large enough to tackle them they cut up such a racket and barking that the burglars, evidently skipped, as they knew that some one would come.

These pups are only three months old, and Zeb has taken great pains with them and by the time they are a year old it will be a regular Kilkenny affair if any one goes in Clegg's back lot at night. They are twins, exactly alike, and are "cross named," after their owners, Nick and Zeb.

Durham township has voted for better roads and the machinery will be bought and work begun at once.

Mecklenburg's new court house is nearing completion. Judging from the cut in the News it is a handsome structure.

Wanamaker on Advertising.

"I never in my life used such a thing as a poster, or dodger, or hand bill. My plan for twenty years has been to buy so much space in a newspaper and fill it up as I wanted. I would not give an advertisement in a newspaper of 500 circulation for 500,000 dodgers or posters. If I wanted to sell cheap jewelry or run a gambling scheme I might use posters; but I would not insult a decent reading public with hand bills. The class of people who read them are too poor to look to for support in the mercantile affairs. I deal directly with the publisher. I say to him: 'How long will you let me run a column of matter through your paper for $100 or $500?' as the case may be. I let him do the figuring, and if I think he is not trying to take more than his share I give him the copy. I lay aside the profits on a particular line of goods for advertising purposes. At first I laid aside $3,000: last year I laid aside and spent $40,000. I have done better this year, and shall increase that sum as the profits warrant it."

DEFENDS THE PRODIGAL SON.

MR. LEE PREACHES A STRONG SERMON TO MEN.

A Large Crowd at the Evening Service and Much Interest Was Manifested.

When the hour of 4 o'clock arrived yesterday afternoon the tent was nearly filled with the men of Greensboro, who had gone out to hear Evangelist Lee preach his special sermon to men only. Before the sermon was commenced Mr. Lee took up a collection, amounting to $60, to help defray the incidental expenses of the meeting—freight on the tent to Greensboro, the lumber, gasoline, night watchman, chorister, etc.

Mr. Lee took no text, but read the parable of the prodigal son as the basis upon which he founded his remarks. He stated that he appeared as counsel for the prodigal son; that he did not believe the prodigal to have been nearly so bad as people would have him; that he was better at heart than his brother who remained at home, and who seems to have been of a sordid, grasping disposition. The fault with the prodigal was that he was too good natured and too easily led astray. When he got away from home and the refining influences of home, he fell into bad company—a lot of fast fellows who found congeniality and mirth around the wine cup, the card table and other forms of worldly amusements. He drew a comparison between the life of the prodigal and the life of many young men of today, some of whom are in the city of Greensboro. He drew vivid pictures of some of the most common and popular forms of sin, and warned the men—especially the young—against being drawn into the sweets of sin.

Quite a number expressed a desire to live on a higher and nobler plane, and many came forward and asked for the prayers of the Christian people.

The sermon is spoken of very highly, and upon the whole we think it accomplished much good.

The Evening Service.

A large crowd assembled to here Mr. Lee last night, the tent being nearly full, while quite a number stood on the outside. The crowd is estimated at something near 2,000, and was the largest that has yet heard Mr. Lee at this place.

His subject was "The Two Closed Doors," and he held the close and undivided attention of the audience while he described the condition of the sinner. It was a fine effort, worthy of the man and the occasion, and a deep solemnity pervaded the entire audience during the whole discourse. Parts of his sermon were full of pathos and tenderness, and moved many to tears.

A large number of those present—probably two-thirds—remained for the after meeting, thus showing their interest. Twenty-five or thirty asked for prayers, while quite a number presented themselves at the altar. Several professed conversion. It is not known just how long the meetings will continue, though Mr. Lee has an appointmeut to begin a meeting at High Point next Sunday. If the interest keeps up it is probable that the meeting will be continued by some of the pastors of the city.

Greensboro Beats Winston.

The Sentinel says the first new tobacco was sold on that market Saturday. It was raised by A. C. Wall, a Forsyth county farmer and was sold at the Piedmont warehouse.

Our market beats that by several days. THE TELEGRAM reported the first sale of new tobacco for the Greensboro market some days ago. It was sold at the Farmers warehouse at satisfactory prices.

To Speak for Education.

Those who are interested in the great cause of public education are keeping up their enthusiasm, notwithstanding the fact that the cause looks rather blue as the campaign draws to a close. Prof. P. P. Claxton went down to Haw River this morning, where he has an appointment to speak. This afternoon he is to speak at Graham, and tonight he is billed for Burlington.

Yearly Meeting.

Quite a number of our people went up to High Point yesterday to attend the yearly meeting, though not so many as usually go. A large crowd was in High Point and every one enjoyed the day greatly.

The different churches of the town were filled by visiting ministers, and we learn that some fine sermons were preached.

Fire Department Meeting.

There will be a meeting of the fire department at the engine house tonight at 8:30. Business of importance is to come up for action. Let every member attend.

C. W. Bain has moved his family here from Graham, and will go into the grocery business on South Ashe street. We welcome Mr. Bain and his family to Greensboro, and hope they may find health, happiness and prosperity in our city.

Called Him Down.

One of our young attorneys with considerable oratorical inclinations was engaged in a magistrate's trial that was being heard up on Court Square this morning. The young attorney was much enthused over the case, and as is often the case with him, raised his voice to a high pitch in one of his flights of oratory. He spoke louder and yet louder, until Judge McIver, who is holding court in the court house, sent him word to desist; that he was making more noise than His Honor and all the members of the bar combined.

Living and Dying Grace.

Those who were at the tent this morning speak very highly of Mr. Lee's talk on "Living Grace." It is said to have been a very fine effort. Tomorrow morning he will speak on "Dying Grace," a most important subject.

Rev. Mr. Lee will preach tonight on "Conscience." It is reasonable to suppose that he will handle the subject in his usual masterly manner.

C. N. McAdoo advertises the store room now occupied by Workman Brothers for rent. This is a good location for almost any kind of business.

A choir of orphans, from Oxford Orphan Asylum, will give a concert for the benefit of that institution at the Academy of Music, Friday night August 20th. Admission ten and twenty-five cents.

We call attention to the ad. of Young's excursion in the penny column today. The fare is so reasonable that many will doubtless take advantage of this opportunity of seeing our metropolis by the sea.

His many friends are glad to learn of the improvement in the physical condition of "Uncle Frank" Caldwell. His general health is now better than it has been for some time, and he is able to get down street nearly every day, if the weather is permissable.

A Mad Chinaman.

Saturday night Joe Lee, who is proprietor of a Chinese laundry on East Market street, went into Howard Gardner's drug store to get some medicine. As he was leaving the store, a colored man standing by said something that made him mad.

We did not learn what was said, but it made the Chinaman's blood boil. And when the negro cursed him, using an epithet that had no uncertain meaning, Joe Lee ran across the street to his laundry as if after a gun or some other weapon. When he returned the negro had left and what might have been a bloody fight was averted.

Back After Fifteen Years.

J. D. McCanless, who moved from this section to Tacoma, Washington, about fifteen years ago, is now in Greensboro. His wife died some time ago, and he brought his three children back to some relatives in Randolph county.

Many changes have occurred since he left North Carolina, and he sees many things which interest him. We hope that Mr. McCanless will become so favorably impressed with Greensboro that he will make our city his home.

A Scorcher Bites the Dust.

A colored female bicyclist was scorching along North Forbis street yesterday afternoon, when she took a header, "biting the dust" after the most approved style. She got up, brushed off the dust, mounted her wheel and scorched away with as much ease as if nothing had happened.

An Explanation.

EDITORS TELEGRAM: I understand the colored cyclists think that this feast is for them in connection with the whites. I wish to state that I will give the colored cyclists a feast on the following Friday, but this one is for the whites exclusively.

Respectfully,
GARLAND DANIEL.

Thomas Gets Nothing.

The case of John W. Thomas vs. the City of Greensboro ended by a verdict being rendered in favor of the city, hence Thomas gets nothing by his suit. No notice of appeal has yet been served.

The court is engaged in hearing a suit brought by Rev. E. A. Parker, of Gibsonville, who is sueing the Southern Railway Company for damages.
